

Dr. Carwyn Hooper

ACADEMIC ADVISOR

“Widening participation and cultivating a supportive, inclusive, and diverse community of future scientific leaders is central to our aims.”

Dr Hooper has degrees in medicine, philosophy and medical education. He also holds a PhD in law. Dr Hooper has worked at St George’s for over thirteen years and he has a number of different roles at the university. He is currently the Head of the Graduate School, the Head of Section for Humanities, Ethics, Law and Global Health, and the Course Director for the MSc in Global Health.

Dr Hooper is also a Trustee of the Institute of Medical Ethics and he was the founding chair of the Institute of Medical Ethics Research Committee.

Dr Hooper participates in a variety of public engagement activities, and he regularly gives interviews on radio and television in both Welsh and English. For many years he was also a regular columnist for The Conversation.

“The Graduate School at St George’s, University of London is committed to equality, diversity and inclusion (EDI) and continuously works towards ensuring that EDI is placed at the heart of everything that we do. Widening participation and cultivating a supportive, inclusive, and diverse community of future scientific leaders is central to our aims and partnering with ERA plays a key role in enabling us to achieve these aims.”